Background of AkiDwa

Akina Dada wa Africa, AkiDwa (Swahili for sisterhood) is the only ethnic minority-led national network of African and migrant women living in Ireland. The non-governmental organisation with charitable status was established in August 2001 by a group of African women to address the needs of an expanding population of African and migrant women resident in Ireland. The organisation is a recognised authority on migrant women's issues and a representative body for migrant women, irrespective of their national or ethnic background, culture, religious beliefs or socio-economic or legal status.
